TOBACCO BILL CHOKED OFF

Power of Tobacco Trust Is Great in Senate

SENATOR ALDRICH BLAMED

Bill Passed the Lower Without a Dissenting Vote to Remove Six Cents Tax from Farmer.

SUCH LAW WOULD NOT SUIT TRUST.

Washington, April 9. Slim, indeed, seem to be the prospects of the passage through the Senate of the bill, which recently passed the House, removing the tax of six cents a pound on unmanufactured tobacco. When the bill reached the Senate it was referred to the Committee on Finance, of which Senator Aldrich, of Rhode Island, is chairman, and then referred to a subcommittee. This was nearly a month ago, but the bill is still sleeping in a pigeon hole. Yielding to the urgent importunities of independent tobacco growers, the subcommittee expects to grant a few hearings to the measure, but it was admitted today by the members of the subcommittee that there was little chance of its passage at this session of Congress.

Representative Hopkins, of Kentucky, who was very active in securing the passage of the bill through the House, says it is being smothered by the Senate committee through the influence of the tobacco trust, so-called, and he asserts that Senator Aldrich is the principal obstacle in its way.

Speaking of the situation this afternoon he said: "The House without a dissenting vote, passed the bill which would have allowed the farmer of Kentucky to sell or otherwise dispose of his tobacco crop just as other farmers dispose of their wheat, corn and potatoes, and the purchaser could in turn sell it as he chose. Under the operation of such a law the farmer could exchange his tobacco with his merchant for groceries, shoes, etc., and the latter could again sell it to his customers at one-half the price he would have to charge for the most inferior grade of manufactured tobacco. It would open up a new field of trade for the farmer who now has but one customer, the tobacco trust, which dictates the price."

This, of course, would not suit the trust, whose chief aim is to kill off all kinds of competition in both the buying and selling markets. Every pound of leaf tobacco sold by the farmer would replace a similar amount of manufactured product, and cut off the profit on the same of not less than ten per cent to the trust.

Moreover, it would tend to raise the price on raw stock which the trust has to buy from the farmer.

Electric Line to Henderson.

The Evansville and Henderson Traction Company has filed articles of incorporation with a capital stock of $100,000 divided into 1000 shares. The company is to operate an electric line from Evansville, Ind., to Henderson, Ky., passing through Howell, Ind. The line will have a length of twelve miles. Incorporators and stock holders are as follows: H. W. Richardson, twenty shares; J. B. Robinson, twenty shares; A. L. Rich, twenty shares; C. C. Tenen, twenty shares; H. H. Patton, four shares; E. G. Reiman, three shares; J. W. Priehard, three shares. The limit of debt is $50,000.

Indian Moccasins.

Joe W. Wright of Hazelton, Kan., who is here in the interest of the Spencer Davis siskie self-sharpeners, carries in his grip a pair of real Indian moccasins made by an Indian squaw in her wigwam on the reservation. The beads are artistically attached and the moccasins present the idea of comfort and ease.

Teachers for Philippines.

Washington, D. C., April 10. One hundred and twelve new American teachers will begin their work in the Philippine public schools when their next session opens on June 10. Of these teachers 100 are men and twelve are women, eight wives, sisters and fiancées of men who are going to the islands to teach or are already employed in insular schools.

Hardship in the remote provinces have proved too much for women teachers and consequently few women are being employed at present and great care is taken not to send them when they have not relatives and friends. None of the new teachers are more than forty years old and most of them much younger. Young collegio men form a considerable part of the force of the new teachers.

All agree to remain in the islands for two years in the government service.

A Stable Burned.

There was an alarm of fire given Saturday which proved to be a stable belonging to Dr. Trisler. The building together with some feed and a buggy were completely destroyed.

It is supposed to have caught from a match dropped by a colored boy in the employ of Dr. Trisler, who had been in the stable a short time before and had lighted a pipe before going out. The boy had taken one of the horses out and the other one was barely saved.

TELEPHONE FRANCHISE NOT CONSIDERED

City Council Declines to Act at Present But May Do So Later-- Other Work.

At the regular meeting of the council Tuesday night J. D. Templeman, representing the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Company, presented a petition signed by quite a number of business men asking that a telephone franchise be sold. The form of franchise and petition were read, but with the exception of one councilman the body declined to receive the matter for consideration. A number of the petitioners have since appeared a bit indignant at the action of the council, but there is good reason to believe that many of the councilmen were not at all averse to the reception of the petition at another time, and in fact, some have so expressed themselves, still it seems that a petition from such a large number of fair minded business men would be worthy of consideration at any time.

The question of publishing the city ordinances was to have been disposed of at Tuesday night's meeting, but left over again until next meeting. All bids were duly in as requested, but the city attorney decided that the lowest bid was not properly before the house, although it was according to the order as shown by the minutes. It was a request communicated to the city clerk in person before the meeting to the effect that the Kentucky Department to continue the publication of the ordinances on the terms of the contract that publication now has with the city.

Obituary.

At about 8 o'clock Monday evening, March 19, 1888, at his home near Freedom, Ky., Mr. James Willis Trisler passed from earth to immortality leaving a sorrowing wife and a large family to mourn him. He was a kind and indulgent father and friend, a good neighbor. He was patient, understanding and careful suffering.

He was baptised into the Baptist church in Oct., 1905. God has promised a reward to the faithful and if the wife, seven dear boys and nine who he faithful and true as was he, when comes the time for them, too, to give up this life, that dear father, uncle and husband will lovingly welcome them into the pearly gates, that have opened to him. He died like "One sustained and soothed by an unfaltering trust, like one who wraps the drapery of his couch around him, and lies down to pleasant dreams."

A FRIEND.

Hopkinsville, Ky., April 4. Percy J. Luster, said to have murdered his wife in Guthrie last July and who was committed to the asylum here several days ago in a very serious condition, is very much improved. His appetite has returned and he is now able to set up all the time. The physician says he cannot yet tell whether Luster will recover.

Josee Bowling eighty-eight years old known as "Uncle Jose" all over Christian county, died at his home in Crofton last week.

FREIGHT TRAIN BADLY WRECKED

Three Freight Cars Totally Demolished.

NO ONE SERIOUSLY INJURED

Passenger Train Delayed Several Hours Makes Transfer of Pas- sengers Necessary.

EXACT CAUSE OF WRECK UNKNOWN.

Although no lives were lost one of the most disastrous wrecks on the I. C. this year occurred Saturday morning about one mile south of the city just before noon.

Three heavy box cars of a north-bound freight train were derailed, tearing up the track perhaps fifty yards and completely demolishing the cars, which happened to be empty.

It took several hours after the wrecking crew arrived to clear the track so that other trains could pass over it.

Passenger train due here from Evansville at 11:15 was detained until 11:27, when passengers and baggage were transferred, the 11:15 going back to Evansville pulled by a freight engine secured in the yards and the 1:27 backing back to Princeton.

On account of recent rains an abundance of mud made it still more unpleasant in transferring the passengers from one train to the other.

Traffic of all kinds was delayed fully six hours until the track could be cleared and the road made passable.

The exact cause of the wreck has not been ascertained but it was possibly caused by some defect in the rails or perhaps fast running around the curve.

Luckily no one was seriously injured and beyond the loss to the railroad company no harm was done.

JIM HOWARD TAKES UP EAST BURDEN

Condemned Man Begins Work in the Penitentiary Without Complaint.

Frankfort, Ky., April 4. James H. Howard entered upon his duties in the penitentiary this morning without a murmur.

He was assigned as cell-bearer to the planer in the sand room and told several prisoners he had been in training for the work for several months.

Obituary.

Willie B. Board, son of E. M. and Melbie Board, was born Oct. 15, 1870, and died Feb. 25, 1906, of pneumonia. He leaves a devoted father and mother, a brother and a host of friends to mourn for him, for I never knew any so universally loved or more deserving than was Willie. He was all that shall miss him and long for the day of his varied hand, for the sound of his sweet voice that is missed. If his voice was so sweet here, how melodious it must be now, spiritual and angelic in Heaven. I imagine I can see him looking in the sunlight of eternal glory singing praises to God.

Willie has left us and our hearts and homes are desolate, but death is the gate that opens out of earth toward the House eternal in the Heavens. While we have lost a loyal friend and loved one Heaven gains a bright jewel, and while we sorrow here he rejoices in his eternal home, where death never enters and where parting is never known.

Dear parents, your noble boy is not lost to you forever, he is yours as ever, as you are his. The ties that unite you are not broken. They are too strong for death's stroke. They are made for the joys of eternal love. I know you feel as if your hearts were crushed, but Christ is our refuge and help in time of trouble, and He doeth all things well. It seems hard to us that Willie was taken in his noble young manhood, when he would have been such a comfort and help to you, his dear parents, in your declining years. God's workings are sometimes mysterious to us. We in our human weakness cannot see and understand, for we indeed see through a glass darkened, but the Bible tells us He doth not willingly afflict and just a few fleeting months, or years at most, and you will meet your darling son in that Home, Sweet Home. Again you will hear his precious voice and how grandly sweet it will be when he welcomes you as the pearly gates unfold, never to say goodbye any more—no more heartaches, no more pain, no more care, but rest, peace and heavenly joy through all eternity.

The silver cord is loosened
That held the immortal part.
And coldness wraps the bosom
And stillness claims the heart.

But yet, where'er the spirit
May wander on its way,
God's promise we inherit,
'Twill live in endless day.

SENSATIONAL SUIT TO BE BROUGHT

At Owensboro to Recover the Estate of Mrs. Lena Weeks for Dowie's Church.

Notice of a sensational suit to be filed at Owensboro by the Zion church of Chicago, against the estate of Lena Weeks, was made several days ago.

The proposed litigation will involve the property in which Mrs. Lena Weeks formerly held an interest and which she gave to Zion City, when she became a citizen of that place and a member of the Dowie community.

Mrs. Weeks formerly resided in Hopkinsville but left there last fall to join Dowie's congregation. When she became a member, she gave over all of her property to Zion City, and the law department of Zion immediately proceeded to assume charge of it.

Investigation shows that relatives in Hopkinsville had for the past several years been paying the taxes on the place for which they claimed it. These relatives refuse to turn over the property to the Dowie lawyers, hence the law suit will shortly be brought to recover the property.

The attorney representing the Zion Law Department has in his possession a letter he claims was written by Mrs. Weeks in which she gives entire estate to "Zion and Christ."

Mrs. Weeks' relatives will make a strong fight against giving up the property and a warm legal contest is promised.

New Barber Firm.

H. F. Foster, the well known barber, has sold his barber shop to Messrs. Walter Burns and Walter McConnell. Mr. Foster contemplates going to New Mexico to reside in the future. He has made many friends since coming to Marion and there is a general feeling of regret at his departure. The barber shop will continue to do business under the firm name of Burns & McConnell.

There are deserving young men, experienced in their line of business and well worthy the citizens' patronage.

An Error.

The local in a recent issue of the Beacon saying that A. S. Hall would go to Shady Grove Tuesday, June 19, was in error and should have read "Tuesday, April 16." Any way the soul-sweet potatoes have already been delivered and will soon be growing.

Farmers, Attention!

I am here representing the Spencer Davis Siskie Self-Sharpeners and desire to have an opportunity to put it before the farmers of the county. I have the long looked for siskie sharpener that every farmer has often felt the need. You must not fail to see it demonstrated. Joe W. Wright, General Agent.

Tobacco Attached.

At Henderson 4,616 hogheads of tobacco were levied to enforce payment of a municipal tax of 50 cents per hoghead. Matter to be contested in courts.

WILL START A NEW ROAD

On Madisonville & Hartford New Railroad.

IN HEART OF GOOD COUNTRY.

Contracts for Construction of New Road to Be Let on the 23rd Inst.

TAPS RICH MINERALS AND TIMBER.

The building of the Madisonville, Hartford and Eastern railroad, which is now assured, is due entirely to the energy, ability and enterprise of a few well-known Madisonville citizens. And that the building of this road is assured, is evidenced by the fact the final contracts for construction will be let on the 23rd day of this month, and the work of construction will begin immediately afterward.

But building the railroad is not the only enterprise that is on foot. A new town has been surveyed and platted, and the promoters of this enterprise seem perfectly confident that within a few years it will be the metropolis of the Green-river valley.

At the first conception of the new railroad it was apparent to all who looked the proposed route over that there was room for one good town between Madisonville and Hartford, and what is thought to be the right spot for this town has been selected. It lies in one of the most beautiful and picturesque spots of Kentucky, surrounded by rich mineral, timbered and agricultural lands, and coal mines are already being opened in the vicinity in anticipation of the coming of the road.

LARGE FAMILIES IN MUHLBERG.

Citizens Are Fathers of Twenty-Four Children, While Broods of Six- teen Are Common.

Central City, April 12.—Some county up in the mountains is boldly making the assertion that it has the most fatherly man in the state for the reason that he had 20 children, one wife being the mother of eight, and other twelve. Muhlenberg county has always been slow to boast, but when she sees another claim the honor that rightly belong to her she must object and step forward to numerate some of her fatherly citizens. William Allen has 24 children four by his first wife and twenty by the last; Meredith Walker has 12 children, all whom of whom had the same mother; William Greenwood has twenty, and only one wife, and Elijah Duke has 18 children, all having the same mother, and there are a hundred other families having 16 children. These fathers are and were all Muhlenberg county citizens and would be highly elated did their effort to place their native town in a higher class by increasing the population secure for them an autograph letter from the President who appreciates such efforts.

Protect Proprietary Medicines.

Did it ever occur to you that proprietary medicines are a blessing to mankind generally? The good ones have long continued sale, the poor ones have short life and soon leave the market.

If we had to depend entirely upon physicians and druggists it would be expensive and very inconvenient at times, especially in the country and at night when neither could be conveniently reached. His Wife's Talent

AN EASTER STORY

By ELVIRA FLOYD FROEMCKE

THE Babcocks were fortunate young people; and their good luck was more than partially invested in Nancy. Nancy was of the grenadier type; severe, capable and thorough. She had been "managing" for the ten months of their married existence; cooking, washing, ironing and dictating, till they became more like her children, and the day she proposed to "earn Mrs. Babcock housekeeping" was a day deferred.

One and morning Mrs. Babcock passed as she opened the kitchen pantry door, for there, like a ghost of the departed, hung Nancy's "chore list." L. E., faded cotton skirt and sack, checked sunbonnet and huge apron gaiters. "Merry!" exclaimed she, "I feel as if Nancy's eyes were on me. I wish she were here. I'd hug her."

"What's that?" called Joe. "If you feel like hugging anybody, come here and hug me, for I must be off."

Mollie sniffed. "Poor Nancy, I hope she can come back to-day. Oh, Joe! Easter three days off, Nancy sick, the choir coming here for Easter supper, and a wife who knows nothing but singing and loving! Poor Joe!"

Joe did not answer, but his kisses proved his content, and Mollie, dashed and smiling, was convinced.

A boy stopped Joe at the gate. "I'd like to see Mrs. Babcock," he said. Joe indicated Mollie.

"That ain't never Aunt Nancy's marm," he gasped; then "he yes" to Mollie, and added: "Wa'al, I swan," before he delivered the mournful news of Aunt Nancy's "swol" jaw and shet eyes" that would keep her in bed for a week.

"Oh-h!" said Mollie, and "Oh-h-h!" mocked Joe.

"What shall we do?" laughed Mollie. "Do everything we proposed and a little more, to show how clever we are," answered Joe.

"Yes, but Alice Morris will pity you for having married me."

"Will she? Then think how you would have pined me had I married her," and, singing a rollicking little song, he ran down the path, like the happy fellow he was.

At their practice that night they rehearsed the Easter anthem, "Therefore, Let Us Keep the Feast." The music was new and delightful. Sopranos and tenors led, Alice Morris coming in with her deep contralto at the words "with malice and uncharitable tales."

"Alice sings her solo as if she understood malice perfectly," whispered one of the chorus. Mollie heard the ungracious remark and resolved to be very gentle with Alice and her friends, if possible.

She spoke pleasantly and walked home beside her. She told her she had heard she cooked as well as she sang. Would she give her a recipe for rusk? Alice was pleasant in turn, and repeated the desired ingredients, Mollie stopping at a leap just to jot down the items. "Half a yeast cake?" asked Mollie.

ONE PROPOSED TO "EARN HIS BREAD" BY "KEEPING" A DAY DEFERRED.

"Yes, and a bit more, if you would insure their lightness."

"O, thank you," said Mollie, as they parted. "I would like them to be good. I would please dear Joe."

"Little fool," answered Alice to herself, "she'll make a mess of it. Much I care about pleasing dear Joe!"

Saturday afternoon the little yellow house bristled with cleanliness. Snowy curtains were hoisted from shining windows. Every room was spotless, and a tired little woman was watching for Joe, and hoping she hadn't forgone anything. She stroked an aggressive flute in the curtain frill, and hurrying to the kitchen, restituted the contents of a bowl, saying:

"Maybe I'd better put in the other half yeast cake," then doubtfully, "I will. Oh, wouldn't it be splendid if these were lighter than Alice Morris' rusk? How proud Joe would be," and she popped in the extra yeast, beat the mixture vigorously, and slid the bowl out of sight in the ice box.

When Joe Babcock reached home, a boy beside him was trundling a wheelbarrow filled with parcels. Mollie ran down to the gate in a flutter of excitement, for Joe was well laden, too. He repeated most of his parcels with Mollie, and, putting an arm about her, skipped up the path into the sitting-room, where they unpacked his shopping.

"You dear," she cried, as the treasures were unrolled that proclaimed Joe's catering ability; "I never should have remembered half these things, yet I should have missed them directly we were at table! But didn't you bring me anything?"

"O, yes. I met Dr. and Mrs. Grey at the station, and they are expecting us for dinner to-morrow, sure."

"Is that all? That was for you, too," pouted Mollie.

"All! All! Well, I think it pretty nice, Mrs. Babcock! No dinner to cook, and a jolly good one to eat! What do you women expect?"

Easter morning dawned clear and Mollie awakened in a joyous mood. She sprang out of bed, and, adorning a scarf or two, rejoined.

"O, leave off, can't you?" mumbled Joe, longing for one more snore, and remembering the rusk, secretly rising for the Easter feast, she "left off."

Suddenly Joe's drowsiness fled. He remembered that Nancy was away, and, dressing swiftly, he hastened downstairs. No breakfast order greeted him, and the house was very quiet. The kitchen floor gleamed, but no light was over it. There, with her head on the table, was Mollie, a thing as if her heart would break, and from the refrigerator rushed and overrode rusk dough, that like a fairy sea surged over the kitchen floor.

THERE, WITH HER HEAD ON THE TABLE, WAS MOLLIE.

"What under the canopy," began Joe, and then he laughed. Oh, oh, how he laughed!

Mollie tried to look haughtily but broke down and sobbed out her story on Joe's shoulder.

"See here," said Joe, kissing her and putting her out of the kitchen. "You run upstairs, Mrs. Babcock, and get to rights. When your eyes look like my Mollie's eyes open a box that lies in the bed, and see if that box is right shade. That," as Mollie sobbed again, "what! You're not to come town till I call!" He closed the door and began to whistle.

"Rise!" said he, "what a mess! That old cat (meaning Mrs. Morris) has given Mollie the wrong recipe. I bet I could make rusk enough for 50 families out of what's left. It's lucky I was brought up on a farm."

When Mrs. Babcock shuffled coffee she found her instructions and the stratagem for the kitchen. For a prize Nancy was a failed rusk-prime in taste and art.

"Why, Nancy," said she, "I am glad you're home."

"Nancy," answered Joe, "I found the recipe on her parlor mantel, and Mollie's in the room, for it's Nancy's. Well, and I'll tell you the whole story, and I'll tell you the whole story, and I'll tell you the whole story."

"Why, Nancy," said she, "I am glad you're home."

"Why, Nancy," said she, "I am glad you're home."

"Nancy," answered Joe, "I found the recipe on her parlor mantel, and Mollie's in the room, for it's Nancy's. Well, and I'll tell you the whole story, and I'll tell you the whole story, and I'll tell you the whole story."

"Why, Nancy," said she, "I am glad you're home."

AN UNLUCKY THIRTEEN.

They Were All Creditors and Not One Ever Got a Cent Due Them.

"Did you ever sit down at a table where there were just thirteen people?" asked a man of his companion in a railway carriage.

"Once," replied the latter.

"Well, you never observed that any bad luck followed it, did you?"

"Why, yes. Bad luck for most of the thirteen."

"Any of them die?"

"Not that I know of. Never heard of any of them dying."

"Not enough victims to go round?" queried the other.

"Whom taking about victims? There wasn't any victims."

"I thought you said you sat down to a table where there were thirteen people."

"That's what I said. The table was in a lower room. It was a meeting of my relatives. There were thirteen of them. I was the thirteenth man."

There was a long pause, and then the first speaker inquired:

"In what way did the meeting prove unlucky to you?"

"None of them ever got a cent from me, answered the other, leaving a deep sigh as he left the carriage.

DESCRIPTION ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR.

Entered as second class matter July 15, 1894, at postoffice at Marion, Ky., under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

FRIDAY, APRIL 13 1906.

Prof. B. E. Thorn, of Cerulean Springs, has been appointed county school superintendent of Trigg to succeed Alford Cunningham, deceased.

The Madisonville Hustler is putting new machinery and will issue a six-column, eight-page paper instead of a six-column. The Hustler bears right name.

France and Great Britain are taking census of the people of their respective domains. It is said that the British census may show that King Edward rules more people than any other monarch.

The county court house at Murray, which burned recently, is to be rebuilt. The fiscal court has decided to submit to the people the voting of $50,000 for the purpose. The vote will be taken in November next.

The fiscal court at Henderson passed a resolution, providing that the question of the county having a new $125,000 court house be voted on at the next November election. The old court house is in a dilapidated condition, and the records are not safe. The question of extending the gravel roads to the county line will also be voted on.

We have no objection whether the Opposition Party names Judge S. W. Leger or Haley; because Western Kentucky has several of the best runners that ever entered the field: Judge James Breathitt of Christian, Hon. W. J. Deboe of Crittenden, U. W. Long of Muhlenburg, E. T. Franks, R. W. Slack and G. W. Jolly of Daviess counties, any one of them can "lick" the Opposition Candidate with a fair and accurate count. — Calix Informer

Senator Elkins in coming out for a railroad rate bill of his own said that while he was classed as a railroad man, he had ten times the interest in shipping that he had in carrying. He said that he was opposed to the Hepburn bill because it did not go far enough. He said there were wrongs, abuses and discriminations by the railroads and he wanted to see them stopped. He said the Hepburn bill would not stop them. He said that he wanted a bill that would call a court review with the right of the court to suspend any rate fixed by the Interstate Commerce Commission compelling the railroads to deposit a amount of money in dispute with the court pending the decision on the order. But what he said he was particularly anxious about was a distinct prohibition against the railroads procuring or dealing in the commodities they carried. This he admitted was prohibited by the decision of the Supreme Court in the Chesapeake and Potomac case, but he wanted it specifically stated in the act. He was also in favor of compelling the railroads to put in switches and make connections with lateral lines on a reasonable basis. Also he wanted the bill to compel the carriers to make a fair distribution of cars and to provide for prompt connections and a prorating agreement with connecting lines. All this coming from one who is classed as a railroad senator, sounds very fair. It was a more liberal proposition than had been expected from him. Now the question remains, was Mr. Elkins talking in good faith and was he as much in earnest with the President's ideas as he professed to be. If he were not, where was the "joker" in any of his proposed amendments?

Is Your Home Like This?

Sometime ago when the Brown Book asked for some original definitions of a home, it received among others the following answers:

An inn where love is landlord and contentment is chief guest.

The place where one is treated best and grumbles most.

Home is a corporation whose preferred stock is contented children.

That place where the heart is and the bills are sent.

Here is the sculptor's work room to shape man's destiny.

Home, happiness, health, harmony, heart's ease, holiness, heritage, heaven, heir.

Home is where we express our worst and best selves.

Where we keep everything but our teeper, criticisms and advice.

To some a place to eat, sleep and wash.

God's kindergarten where souls are trained for humanity and heaven.

Simply two words, love and mother.

A loving wife, a good table and a clean bed.

A man's rest is a woman's joy, a child's paradise.

Neat wife, sober, industrious husband. Respectful children. That of debt.

Home is love's bank, and our account is never overdrawn.

God's thought, childhood's refuge—maidenhood's dream—woman's heaven—man's inspiration.

Home is God, father, mother, babies, love, education and catfishes.

Maid sublime, meals on time.

None scrappy, all happy.

Home is where love rules, unselfishness, tact and harmony exist.

Home, "the center of gravity in the sphere of life."

Home is the result of learning to bear and forbear.

Bright and cheerful place, pleasant wife, kiss at the door.

Home is where mother is, be it humble or great.

Home is what we make it, either heaven or hell.

Father, mother, brothers, sisters, plenty to eat, wear and share.

Home to mankind is as to the hub to the wheel.

My happy little wife, blue-eyed baby.

And God always.

Home is where the heart finds its greatest content.

Where loved ones "bunk" together. The best school for making true men and women.

Where love reigns supreme, And filthy dirt is never seen.

Neuralgia And Other Pain.

All pain in any disease is nerve pain, the result of a turbulent condition of the nerves. The stabbing, lacerating, darting, burning, agonizing pain that comes from the prominent nerve branches, or sensory nerves, is neuralgia, and is the "big brother" of all the other pains.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills rarely ever fail to relieve these pains by soothing these larger nerves, and restoring their tranquility.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills leave no bad after-effects, and are a reliable remedy for every kind of pain, such as headache, backache, stomachache, sciatica, rheumatism and neuralgia. They also relieve Dizziness, Sleeplessness, Nervousness, Car-Sickness, and Distress after eating.

"For many years I have been a constant sufferer from neuralgia and headache, and have never been able to obtain any relief from various headache powders and capsules, until I tried Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They always cure my headache in five minutes time." PHILIP H. EVINCE, JR., Cashier 1st Nat. Bank, Atkinson, Neb.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first package will benefit, if it fails he will return your money. 25 doses, 25 cents. Never sold in bulk. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Watch What You Are Doing!

"Did you ever raise a family?"

"Yes, sir."

"How did you raise them?"

"Well, sir, as soon as they got big enough to slap or spank, I began to slap and spank them."

"Did you wait until you were in a good humor before you slapped?"

"No, sir. I waited for nothing. I never slap when I am in a good humor."

"Well, you slap often, do you?"

"Well, well sir, when I get out of tobacco or snuff I lose patience with everything."

"Do you take your baby to church?"

"No, sir."

"Why?"

"Because it isn't the style these days. It's an awful sight of trouble to fix up a bottle to take to church."

"You don't nurse the baby, then?"

"No, sir, that has just about gone out of fashion and I wish it was. If it was not for the cost of bottles and rubbers, and there are other reasons why I do not take the baby."

"What are they?"

"Well, one of them is this. Just about the time they begin to sing a solo, they begin to cry and twist and you know you have to listen awfully close, at best, to have any words in a solo, and that is one of the up to date things of our church and it helps to keep down excitement. If we should not want to stay after the solo we have an excuse to go home to the babies, and some of the preachers sometimes make their sermons shorter when they know a lot of women leave their babies at home. I can't endure a long sermon anyway. Well, now, you have been a little bit suggestive as to how I do and see on. Did you ever raise a family?"

"Yes, ma'am. I have raised two families."

"Well, narrate for your friends and neighbors."

"Well, I never whipped or spanked. I never promised a whipping to one of my children. I never whipped when out of humor and never quarreled with my children under any circumstances. I never allowed one to cry if I whipped it. I never whined any of those times than twice."

"Did you nurse them?"

"No, ma'am. My wife nursed them. We neither used rubbers nor bottles."

"Did you take them to church?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"Why did you take them?"

"Because they were ours."

"Weren't they a heap of trouble?"

"No, ma'am. We got used to it. We had a good many and we began to take them early and they got used to it and we had no bottle to get sick and make the babies twist and groan. They never disturbed us during a solo. My children never had a whipping at school and two-fifths of them have been teachers. And they never asked him to let them go to a dance nor a party in their lives. If they ever wanted to go they never said so. So I have had no trouble with my children and become a social companion with them, save though you may have ten or thirty. And you will be glad you are living. And you will not get old though you may have passed half a century."

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contains Mercury.

as mercury will utterly destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. MARION, KENTUCKY.

The ancient Romans ate oysters as the first course at banquets because of their quality of stimulating the appetite.

Three hundred thousand acres of Louisiana are now under cultivation in growing cane, which produces an average crop of more than 720,000,000 pounds of sugar and nearly 24,000,000 gallons of molasses.

The mineral industries in the United States during 1905 paid to mine owners and stockholders $150,000,000 in dividends, an immense increase having taken place in the output of the leading metals—gold, copper, silver, iron ore and coal.

Great Britain is the largest consumer of American cotton, exports to that country for the season of 1904-5 amounting to 4,140,474 bales. Much of this comes back to the United States in the form of prepared fabrics, cotton cloth, etc. France took only 557,728 bales, and the total amount sent to the continent was about 3,578,656 bales.

The rubber trade in the United States amounts to millions of dollars in the course of a year, demands having arisen in the rubber-tire business that did not exist ten years ago. The production of rubber is behind the demand. Most of the raw product comes from Brazil and tropical Africa, though progress has been made in the cultivation in Ceylon and Mexico.

The Germans in New York, by birth and parentage, would make a city equal to Leipzig and Frankfurt-on-Main combined; the Austrians and Hungarians, Trieste and Fiume; the Irish, Belfast, Dublin and Cork; the Italians, Florence; the English and Scotch, Aberdeen and Oxford; the Poles, Wilna in Russia. One-seventh of the people are Jews and their number equal the population of Maine.

The results of the New England fisheries in 1905 broke all records. Maine contributed to the food supply of the world over 1,000,000,000 packed sardines, valued at $5,000,000, and in fresh fish alone Boston sold $4,000,000 worth. The great "T" wharf in Boston handled 100,000,000 pounds of fresh fish, valued at $2,000,000. At this wharf as many as 50 fishing vessels have been moored at one time.

Baron von Sternburg shows that the main question at Algiers is that of special rights for all in Morocco, and of the "open door." Germany contends that the police should be given an international character, and that the new bank of Morocco should have the same, allowing no special rights to France or to any other power. France opposes both propositions, despite their obvious equity, justice and propriety.

Oak park, a suburb of Chicago, now claims to be the champion automobile town of this country. Philander Horton, who lives there, says there are 82 automobiles owned in Oak park and nine in River Forest, while orders have been placed for immediate delivery of 25 more. Oak park will then have over 100 cars, about one car to every 150 people—a car for every 30 families. All of this means an investment of $200,000.

Perhaps the oldest house in all the world is owned by Fritz Schermer, of St. Louis. The house stands all by itself out in the northwest side of the city, only a few blocks from one of the great breweries, and from the outside it has the appearance of an ordinary "cottager" frame and shingle cottage, with a rather wide porch and odd angles to the roof. The strange feature of the house is that it is built entirely of beer kegs.

In 1905 the United States had a larger total of foreign commerce than in any earlier year. There are more markets open than ever before. The total foreign commerce aggregates about $2,700,000,000. Of this amount the excess of exports approximates $325,000,000 over imports, the former reaching a total of more than $1,300,000,000. The imports for the same period approximate $1,175,000,000, or about $100,000,000 a month.

Ella Meeker, the pioneer orator and historian of Oregon, recently erected the first of a series of monuments that are to designate the old "Oregon trail." The monument, which is a large granite shaft, was dedicated at Tenino, Wash., on a portion of the trail where, over 50 years ago, Mr. Meeker and his wife prepared supper for a stricken blazer, while other members of the "prairie schooner" party kept a sharp lookout for Indians. Mr. Meeker is now on his way eastward from Seattle with a yoke of red oxen and a "prairie schooner," tracing the "Oregon trail" all the way back to Indianapolis, Ind.

It is fair to presume that the Eliseo police will now become a social center not equaled since the days of Carrot. The new president's wife is well qualified to uphold the honor and dignity of his position, whether she is called upon to entertain a queen or a plebeian. When the French constitution was drawn up the Empress Eugenie was unpopular with the republicans, and they were determined that the ruler should not come under political government. It is possible that Madame la Presidente will have the official title that goes with her position.

REMOVE THE SUBSTANCE AND THE SHADOW WILL DISAPPEAR

MOUNT VESUVIUS SUDDENLY QUIET

SCORES OF PEOPLE HAVE BEEN KILLED AND THOUSANDS INJURED.

ASHES STOP STREET TRAFFIC IN NAPLES

Thousands Leave the City, While Other Thousands Rush Through the Streets, Declaring That the End of the World Has Come—Fifty Thousand Homes Have Been Destroyed.

Rome, April 9.—The latest news received here in regard to the eruption of Mount Vesuvius is that the volcano has suddenly moderated. The showers of ashes that have been falling several days have ceased. Advises from Naples say there are 15,000 refugees in that city.

Scores Dead, Thousands Injured. Naples, April 9.—Drowned in a river of liquid fire from Mount Vesuvius, or trapped in homes which were rocked to pieces by earthquakes, scores of persons have lost their lives and thousands are injured.

Fifty thousand homes have been destroyed. Sweeping down the mountain side from the crater of Vesuvius is a river of lava 500 feet wide and 20 feet deep. Nothing in its path can turn the wall of molten rocks aside. Several towns have been wiped out entirely; others are partially destroyed, still more are doomed. From the ruins of these villages 12,000 bodies have been recovered. At San Giuseppe Vesuviano seven at Hueso Tre Case and six at Torre Annunziata.

Ashes Burial a Town. Showers of ashes are burying the town of Nola, 22 miles from Naples. Nola is a very old town of 15,000 inhabitants.

The lava now flowing toward Caserta, and setting apart the city, is fast for the city's future inhabitants. The eruption, at Torre del Greco and Pompeii have improved owing to the change in the direction taken by the flowing lava. On the other hand the conditions at Castellana are worse. The ashes and cinders which have fallen there are four feet deep and frequent earth shocks are felt.

The Vesuvian railway has been stopped out by a moving wall of lava 20 feet in height. Dust and ashes have reached even to Sicily.

No trace remains of Hueso Tre Case, a commune on the western declivity of the volcano, where up to 45 hours ago 10,000 persons lived.

A Poole in Naples.

The Italian tanks of Naples are fleeing from the city in large numbers and are being towed to the sea. The Italian fleet is being mobilized and is proceeding to Naples to offer any possible assistance to the stricken people. The king and queen of Italy have been touring the city endeavoring to tranquilize the people.

A train going toward Naples along the coast was unable to make any headway against the mass of cinders and was brought to a standstill. The passengers left the train and plunged into the sea.

English Ships in Shelter Facilities.

The captains of the four English steamers now in the harbor of Naples have offered their ships to the Italian authorities to shelter the fugitives. The Italian fleet is being mobilized and is proceeding to Naples to offer any possible assistance to the stricken people. The king and queen of Italy have been touring the city endeavoring to tranquilize the people.

Missionaries Killed in Mexico.

Guadalajara, Mex., April 9.—While returning from a fruitless search for the lost district of Mexico, John P. Hally of Kansas City, fell from a precipice in the Sierra Madre, in the state of Guerrero, and was dashed to death on rocks more than 1,500 feet below.

ROCKEFELLER OUT AGAIN GOES TO NEW YORK TO SEE HIS NEW GRANDSON.

Went and Peaked, Bent and Winded, He Would Not Smile That Would Not Come Off.

New York, April 9.—John D. Rockefeller is back in New York state from Lawrence, N. Y., getting acquainted with the only member of the family who has less than him. By this token is meant John D. Rockefeller III. From at least from the last time he left the city, a fear that he had kept him a prisoner, but water-proofed in his New Jersey fastness, these months he came to New York, gray and peaked, bent and winded like a Golden Plover, but without a smile that would not come off.

Here's something that helps to give you an idea of the good humor that filled the richest man on the planet as he hurried into Manhattan to see for the first time the only son of his only son.

As he issued from the Twenty-third street ferry he passed and peered smilingly and obligingly for a photograph. There is no record that he ever did that before.

Only his daughter, Mrs. E. Parsons Prentiss, and his son, John D. Rockefeller, accompanied John D. Rockefeller on his trip to New York.

MISS MABEL HALEY COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Body of Young Woman Found Who Disappeared Last Fall, and Her Whom a Town Searched.

Woodville, Mo., April 9.—The body of Miss Mabel Haley, aged 29, daughter of Mr. Robert Haley, a former member of the state legislature, was found in the local branch of the creek.

The young woman left her home secretly during a severe storm on the night of November 22, under circumstances that in the light of later events led her relatives to fear she had committed suicide. Miss Haley was afflicted with consumption and in fits of despondency had on several occasions threatened to kill herself.

The most dramatic search for the young woman after her disappearance was to discover the last trace of her. It was thought she had fled to the creek and drowned herself, and a search for her body was made. The creek was searched for several days, but no trace of her body was found.

The body was found in the creek, and the search was ended. The body was found in the creek, and the search was ended.

CHEAPER FARM LANDS

Southwest Offers Best Opportunities
For Securing Homes.

Many farmers in the Northern and Eastern states are selling their high priced lands and locating in the Southwest. Many who have been unable to own their homes in the older country are buying land in the new country.

Unusual opportunities exist along the lines of the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain Route. The rich, alluvial, delta lands and river bottom lands of Southeast Missouri, Eastern Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, capable of producing 60 bushels of corn, a bale of cotton, 4 to 6 tons of alfalfa, 150 bushels of potatoes, and other grains, vegetables and hay crops, can be bought for $7.50 to $15.00 per acre. When cleared and slightly improved will rent for $1.00 to $2.00 per acre cash.

Uplands more rolling, lighter soil, adapted to fruit growing—peaches, pears, plums, grapes, berries, also inclons, tomatoes and other vegetables, can be bought for $5 to $10 per acre in unimproved state. Many places with small clearings and some improvements can be bought very cheap.

This is a fine stock country. No long winter feeding. Free range, pure water, mild climate. A healthy growing country, with a great future.

Watson's Magazine

The leading exponent of Jeffersonian Democracy, edited by Hon. Thos. E. Watson, of Georgia, the Father of Rural Free delivery; author of "The Story of France," "Life of Napoleon," "Life and Times of Thomas Jefferson," "Metheny" and other books. Mr. Watson was the People's Party nominee for Vice-President in 1896, and for President in 1904. He is today heading a middle-class reform movement which is bound to sweep the country in a short time.

Watson's Magazine is not a Socialist publication. It does not stand for collective ownership for all the means of production. Mr. Watson believes in public or government ownership of railroad, telegraphs and telephones, in municipal ownership of street railways, gas, electric lights, water works, etc., and he believes in private ownership of all industries not natural monopolies.

The middle class—the home owners, farmers, small business men, and property owners—won Jefferson's victory in 1800, won Jackson's victory over Nick Little's money power in 1832, won Lincoln's victory in 1860. But each time after the flush of victory had died away, they became careless of their rights and went to sleep. They have slept a good portion of the time since 1865, but Watson's Magazine is waking them up. Another great victory is in the air. Keep in touch with the movement.

STATE NEWS HAPPENINGS

STATE RACING COMMISSION.

Gov. Beckham Appoints the Members of the Board.

Frankfort, Ky., April 5.—Gov. Beckham announced the appointment of Col. F. E. Chay, of Hamilton county; Col. Milton Young, of Fayette county; and Col. Jack Chalm, of Mercer county, representing the great breeding interests of Kentucky, and former Mayor Charles F. Granger, of Louisville, and Louis Desognets, of Lexington, widely known business men, as members of the Kentucky state racing commission provided for by the Chalm bill and adopted at the recent legislative session. No one of the appointees has received his commission as representative of any racing association operating in Kentucky, or which proposed to enter the racing game in this state. In Chalm, Chay and Young the great wealth of the Kentucky breeders is represented. Col. Chalm was selected by the breeders to put the bill through for their benefit, and he is spoken of for chairman of the commission. The body will meet here Saturday, April 14, next, to organize.

TUCKER MURDER CASE.

Absence of Prosecutor and Attorney
General Causes a Postponement.

Covington, Ky., April 5.—In the federal court in this city a motion was made for a continuance of the case of H. M. Tucker and others, revenue officers, charged with murder in Pike county. It is said that the man came by his death in resisting arrest by the officers on a charge of operating an illicit whiskey still in the mountains of that county. It developed that neither the commonwealth's attorney of Pike county nor State Attorney General Hays were present to prosecute the case, the only prosecutor being an attorney from Pike county who was hired by the friends of the dead man. Judge Cochran pointed out that no one had any authority to prosecute such a case except the commonwealth's attorney, and, possibly, the attorney general.

ALLEGED CORRUPT WORK.

Grand Jury Will Investigate the Actions of Certain Lobbyists.

Frankfort, Ky., April 7.—After an order given by Circuit Judge Stout, the grand jury of Franklin county began an investigation of rumormongers here during the last week of the regular session of the general assembly, of corrupting work of lobbyists against the measure proposed to place a tax upon rectified whiskey. The members of the staff of a local paper were questioned by the jury and gave information which will result in a number of persons from out in the state being summoned to come here and tell what they may know.

Will Fight New Law.

Louisville, Ky., April 7.—It is now believed that instead of leaving the state, because of the rectified tax of 15 cents on each gallon of whiskey made or brought into the state for bottling, the distillers of Kentucky will fight the constitutionality of the law. Those familiar with the law, however, declare that it is constitutional in every degree.

OUT OF THE PARTY.

Republicans Read Judge McClintock,
Accused of Favoring Democrats.

Paris, Ky., April 6.—At a meeting of the county republican committee resolutions were adopted expelling Judge D. McClintock from the republican party and forbidding him in the future to attend meetings or conferences of the republicans. He is accused of having secretly worked for the success of the democrats. Mr. McClintock for over 20 years has been an active republican. He was a member of the county committee and a candidate for county judge in the republican primary. He was by appointment acting postmaster, and was a leading candidate for the same office at the time of the appointment of the incumbent, Louis Earlwine. He is also prominently identified with the business interests of the city being a director of the Agricultural bank, the Bourbon County Agricultural society and representative of several large insurance companies.

THE NORMAL SCHOOLS.

Governor Appoints Commission With Authority To Locate Them.

Frankfort, Ky., April 6.—Gov. Beckham appointed seven commissioners, as follows, with authority to locate the two normal schools provided for by act of the general assembly at the recent session: Prof. Geo. Payne, of Paducah; Attorney G. H. Edwards, of Russellville; Attorney Basil H. Hichardson, of Glasgow; Superintendent E. A. Mark, of Louisville; Prof. John Morris, of Covington; and Senator Morton Watson, of Louisville. The commissioners will assemble here April 11 next, and advertise for proposals for location of schools. Hichardson and Bowling Green are leading in the competition for location. Each has offered valuable property for school site.

Buggy Containing Thompson Barnes and Son Struck on Cross-gang.

Williamstown, Ky., April 7.—Thompson Barnes, a prominent Grant county farmer, was instantly killed at Mann's crossing near here. He had been in Cincinnati on business and his son met him here with a buggy. They were in the net of crossing the railroad track about a mile below town when Engine 672 crashed into them, horribly mangled Barnes and hurling his son 25 feet. The latter was bruised, the horse killed and the buggy demolished.

After a Separation of 40 Years.

Fulton, Ky., April 5.—After being separated for more than 40 years, C. M. Hutter, of Fulton county, and Deputy Sheriff Charles Thompson, of Fulton (Ky.), Tenn., who fought in the same company during the civil war, came face to face on the crowded streets here and a very emotional scene followed.

Glasgow, Ky., April 6.—Rev. J. T. Pansley, a Baptist minister, has been arrested on a charge of larceny. John son Terry, colored, claims that Pansley did not turn over to him all the money coming on an accident insurance policy. He denies the charge. He is an insurance agent.

Will Erect a New Church.

Williamstown, Ky., April 5.—The Baptist church congregation will build a new $15,000 church this spring. Nearly all of the money is already subscribed. A New York millionaire has promised $40,000 for a new recreation building for Williamstown institute if the people will build the new church.
